

BIO

Keith Sanders works with leaders who want to increase their influence in the workplace and create a more positive culture. From government agencies to retail companies to manufacturing facilities, the communication techniques Sanders teaches can be adapted to practically every business environment.

His background in television news and radio management taught him how to build strong teams under strict deadlines when emotions are high. Now, through keynotes, training and coaching, Sanders shares his expertise to help leaders generate more rapport with the people they supervise, foster stronger relationships to encourage cooperation and, ultimately, increase results! Whether “results” for you means improving morale, increasing productivity or boosting profits.

In the past decade, Sanders has presented more than a thousand live programs to companies and associations in 44 states, Canada and Puerto Rico. Some of his happy clients include Kraft Foods, AutoZone, the United States Army National Guard, Florida Power & Light and the YMCA.

Sanders is the president of Keith Sanders International, a communication and consulting company. Read more about his customized business solutions, watch videos of him speaking and sign up for his Leadership Tips by visiting www.KeithSanders.com.

TOPICS

Interactive Training or Humorous Keynotes centered around the themes of:

- Leadership
- Initiative, Valuing Others & Motivation
- Coaching Employees Through Change
- Creating a Positive, Creative Culture

Some suggestions that could fit into your convention or meeting’s theme:

No Excuses Leader: Essential Coaching Skills for Productivity and Profits I’d Like to Buy a Morale

Maintaining Motivation & Momentum through Change

How to Deal with Rotten Attitudes

Managing Workplace Conflict/Communicating with Tact

Laugh & Lead: Finding Focus and Fun at Work

Wow! Speaking Dynamic Presentation Skills for Managers & Supervisors